At America's Test Kitchen, over 20 years have been spent investigating how cooking works - and why recipes sometimes don't. The Test Kitchen spends weeks trying to figure out whether there's a better way to get to the same end point either more quickly, more reliably, or with better-tasting results. Over the course of two decades, what has been learned is that without solid technique, good cooking is impossible. Sure, there's artistry involved, too, but good cooking starts with good science. In this edition, more than 30 recipes have been gathered that, during the past 20 years of incessant testing, have had the biggest effect on how the Test Kitchen cooks. These will make your own cooking not just better, but more interesting for you as well as your guests. Here you'll find Steaks and Prime Rib, Chicken, Roast Turkey, Pork Chops, Ham and much more. Find Risotto, Brown Rice, Bread, Breakfast items like Pancakes Omelets, and Scrambled Eggs, and great soups and stews from French Onion to Tuscan Beans. Find sides like Potatoes, Cauliflower, Beans, and finish off with Banana Bread, Sugar Cookies, Chocolate Chip cookies, pumpkin pie, and fluffy layer cakes.
