No Stone Unturned: A Brother and Sister's Incredible Journey Through the Olympics and Cancer

Jessie Garcia

This is a story of two heroes who climbed different mountains and defined success in two startlingly different ways. It's the story of a brother who, at one point in time, was the world's best. And it's the story of a sister who wouldn't accept death as an alternative and found a quality of life through spiritual growth and a protocol of nontraditional cures. In No Stone Unturned, author Jessie Garcia shares the story of Casey FitzRandolph, who won an Olympic gold medal in speedskating in 2002 and his sister, Jessi, who was diagnosed eight years later with stage IV breast cancer. The FitzRandolphs brought glory to the United States in the form of gold, yet left their home country in search of alternative medical treatments. Heart-wrenching and thought-provoking, No Stone Unturned follows the family through their journey. Told from the perspective of all involved, it offers insight into the heart of a modern American household dealing with two extreme emotions—elation and despair.
